Rosenow Room, located on our conference level, is the largest of Lied Lodge's rooms equipped with adjustable walls allowing four smaller rooms for team building or breakout sessions to be created. With floor to ceiling windows and outdoor accessibility, it overlooks the hazelnut research field. It features a stone fireplace and cherry wood throughout the room. Rosenow Room is perfect for banquets of 200 or more.

Steinhart Room, located on our conference level, is the second largest of Lied Lodge's rooms equipped with adjustable walls allowing four smaller rooms for team building or breakout sessions to be created. With floor to ceiling windows and outdoor accessibility, it overlooks the hazelnut research field. It features a 7' 4" x 11' built-in rear projection screen and birch wood throughout.

Marcotte Room, located behind our conference level stone fireplace, is ideal for intimate parties or smaller groups. With floor to ceiling windows and outdoor accessibility, it overlooks the hazelnut research field. This room features pecan wood.

Terrace Room, located on the lobby level, is equipped with an adjustable wall, allowing two smaller rooms for team building or breakout sessions. With windows the length of the room, it overlooks Arbor Lodge, the historic mansion of J. Sterling Morton, founder of Arbor Day. This room features cypress wood.

Boardroom, located on the top floor of the conference center, is ideal for small team meetings, strategic board retreats or planning sessions. With French doors, it overlooks Wildwood Park and our arboretum. It offers a large conference table, a vaulted ceiling and sassafras wood.

Steinhart Lodge, located within walking distance (5 minutes) of Lied Lodge & Conference Center, is available for groups of up to 200 people. It serves as a unique meeting and dining option for groups. It's many windows overlook Steinhart Park. The lodge features rustic beauty, with a fireplace, timber beams and chandeliers.

Parlor Rooms, located in the guest room wing, are available for small breakout rooms or small hospitality rooms.

Historic Morton Barns, located a short walk (10 minutes) from Lied Lodge & Conference Center, are the perfect setting for outdoor team building, a fresh-air lunch or an evening barbeque. Shuttles and hayracks are transportation options to the barns.
